

Hardison & Cochran Law Firm Receives Trendsetter Award for Inspiring Volunteerism

Raleigh Law Firm Committed to Making Community a More Caring Place Through Community Involvement and Compassionate Legal Assistance

RALEIGH, NC—Hardison & Cochran Attorneys at Law was proud to receive a Trendsetter Award from the organization Activate Good, recognizing our strong and ongoing commitment to community volunteerism and helping others who are in need.

The Trendsetter Award, given to individuals and companies that inspire volunteerism, was presented at Activate Good's 7th annual Couture for a Cause fashion show and fundraiser at the Raleigh Convention Center.

Activate Good is a non-profit center that connects individuals and companies to volunteer needs with more than 250 non-profits in the Triangle to help charitable causes.

Hardison & Cochran has teamed up with Activate Good on numerous occasions in recent years. During 2015, Hardison & Cochran has sponsored "Doing Good" segments each month on WNCN's My Carolina Today, giving Activate Good and its non-profit partners an opportunity to introduce themselves and publicize their missions and many ongoing activities that make our community a more caring place to live and raise families.

The personal injury attorneys at Hardison & Cochran recognize there are many people who are going through a difficult time who need a helping hand to move ahead with their lives.

Our law practice is dedicated to helping individuals, not big corporations or insurance companies. The law firm has three North Carolina Board-Certified Specialists in Workers' Compensation Law and a North Carolina Board-Certified Specialist in Social Security Law.
